The Farmers and the Literary Revolution.

A recent issue of the "American Agriculturist" contains some insinuations reflecting upon the character of the Useful Knowledge Publishing Company, of New York. They are insinuations only, no direct allegations being made. Their only foundation is malice and fear, on the part of the Agriculturist publishers. The average cost of books published by the Useful Knowledge Publishing Company, in proportion to their real value is less than one fifth of the average cost of the agricultural books published by the Orange Judd Co. Within less than three years the "Literary Revolution" gave the American people over one million dollars worth of the choicest books the country has ever seen: more in bulk and in real value than Judd has given them in a third of a century, A recent issue of the "American 2 00 has given them in a third of a century, 2 00 and more than he would have given 4 00 and more than he would have given and more than he would have given them for five million dollars. No class is abused more abominably by the book publishers than the farmers. I was a farmer boy before I was a pub-lisher, and know something of both sides. Twenty-five years ago I was a barefooted boy, driving an ox-breaking team through the hazel-brush and prayie gross of Iowa and precing team through the hazel-brush and prarie grass of Iowa, and reading Grimshaw's "England," and "The New York Tribune" between times and by the firelight at night, and I got there a little too much of "Useful Knowledge" and of strength to allow baseless slander to overthrow the entered to the strength of the strength to baseless slander to overthrow the en-terprise to which I have given my life. Judd shall realize his fear that the Useful Knowledge Publishing Company will publish agricultural books as well as other books, and it will not charge $1.50 for a book that does not cost 15 cts. to manufacture. In response to pressing and almost dis-tressing calls from all over the country, from farmers, farmers' boys and teach-ers, it will also enter the field of school-book publishing presently, and we ers, it will also enter the field of school-book publishing presently, and we shall see what will become of the high prices of the rich and grasping pub-lishers in that field. The Useful Knowledge Publishing Company does what Judd, and no other of the old-line publishers do, it sends its books to any part of the United, States and al-lows privilege of examination before lows privilege of examination before payment is required. It supplies its agents with copies of its cheap and beautiful publications for distribution among their customers, for examina-tion at their leisure, and allows the tion at their leisure, and allows the return of any book not wanted. Specimen pages of its publications, catalogues, and terms to club agents, booksellers, and canvassers will be sent free upon request. Done Wonders.

"Your GOLDEN BALSAM is a truly valuable medicine. It has done wonders for me. I had a severe spell of pneumonia and was confined to my room for several months. When I got able to be out of doors, my lungs were very weak, with general prostration of my system, and a very sore throat and hard cough. You gave me a bottle of your Balsam on trial, which very much relieved my throat and cough, and after taking two bottles I was able to attend to my business. My lungs have always been weak. My father, mother, and all of my brothers and only sister, and most of my near relatives, died with Consumption. I have taken five bottle of your Golden Balsam, and can cheerfully recommend it to all suffering with hard cough, or weak lungs.—[Simeon Fawcett, Kansas City, Mo
